C-X'S PSALM OF MARRIAGE.

TELL ME NOT IN JILLY JINGE,
Marriage is an empty dream
For the men are desk'd that ro sogla
And they are out what they seem.Life is real, Life is earnest,
Singing blessedness a blank.
Thus say "WITHIN LEAVE ME DEAREST!"
Independent of her rank.NOT Employment And not sorrow
Is our destined end or way,
To act so that to morrow
Find us wear our Wedding Day.Life is short and life is fleeting
And our hearts though lith and gay,
Still like pleasant dreams are heating
Wedding marches on their way.In this world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life,
We like dumb-birds ent're
He a hero take a wife.Trust to future, however pleasant,
Let the dead just bury his dead,
Act act in the living presents,
A wife at home and babies ahead.Lives of married folks remind us
We make our lives tributes,
And departing, leave behind us
Children worthy of our love.Just such children, that another,
Waiting time in idle sport,
A fortior, unmarried brother,
Seal bring take heart and court.Let us then be up and doing
With a heart on marriage set,
Still keep sporting and pursuing
Until we a good wife get.

SOUTH KENTUCKIAN

CHAR. M. MCACHAN, ----- Editor
HOPKINSVILLE, APRIL 24, 1883.

We are authorized to announce Capt. Ralph Sheldon, of Nelson county, as a candidate for re-election as Register of the Land Office, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election August, 1883.

Vote for Knott for Governor.

Keep war issues out of the campaign by nominating Knott for Governor.

Dr. W. B. Jefferson has received the Democratic nomination for the Legislature in Todd county.

Hon. Jno. D. White will be married to-day to a daughter of Congressman Harris, of Massachusetts.

As the pardon mill has begun to grind again, it is presumed that Gov. Blackburn has returned home from Arkansas.

The Republicans of a number of counties besides Christian have endorsed Maj. Crumbaugh for the Navy port folks.

Democrats don't fail to instruct your delegates to the county convention. We want an expression of the people in each voting precinct.

President Arthur had a chill last Thursday and the newspapers made more fuss about it than England did when the Queen hurt her knee.

"Dude" is the latest word coined. The correct pronunciation of the word is "dewy-dee." A dude is a cross between a "masher" and a fool.

Remember the precinct convention in Christian county next Saturday called to meet not earlier than 2 nor later than 3 o'clock p.m. Go and vote.

The Bowling Green Gazette under the excellent management of Messrs. Porch & Woods now appears as a bright, newsy seven column semi-weekly.

The trial of the case of Thos. Crittenden for the murder of Rose Mosby, col. at Anchorage last December, resulted in a hung jury, at Louisville, last week.

The Pennsylvania Senate is considering a bill to prevent a person from treating another. Should it be passed a large class will be knocked entirely out of their drunks.

Half a dozen new papers came to us last week requesting an exchange. Certainly, brethren, certainly, and may the SOUTH KENTUCKIAN be as welcome a visitor to your sanctuaries as your paper are to ours.

The Franklin Favorite has been greatly improved in appearance by the substitution of a new Campbell power press for its old hand press. We congratulate our esteemed contemporary on its upward move.

Tom L. Cannon was defeated in his candidacy for the Legislature in Henderson county. Mr. W. S. Holloway was nominated by 286 majority in the primary election. H. C. Dixon was nominated for the Senate.

Where did the Cadiz Telephone get its information that Polk Johnson had withdrawn from the race for Lieutenant-Governor? Such is not the case and our contemporary does Col. Johnson a great injustice by so stating.

Democrats you are called upon to nominate a Governor only once every four years. Go to your voting places next Saturday and vote for Proctor Knott, if you want the next Governor to be a statesman worthy of the position.

All editors and publishers who desire to attend the meeting of the W. K. P. A. at Henderson May 23 and 24, will please notify the editor of this paper by the 1st of May, in order that he may arrange with the railroads for transportation.

The body of Maggie Henneke, a twelve-year-old girl who mysteriously disappeared from Milwaukee, Oct. 21, 1882, has been discovered floating in the river near that city, thereby exploding the theory of abduction which was advanced at the time.

Col. W. O. Bradley, of Garrard county, one of the ablest and most distinguished leaders of the Republican party in Kentucky has gone to Colorado to live. As Colorado is a Republican state, we may expect to hear of Col. Bradley in the future.

Mr. Marshall W. Neal, late of the Glasgow Times, has purchased a half interest in the Farmers' Home Journal, of Louisville, and will take charge of the business department of that excellent paper. Col. Ion B. Nall will still edit the Home Journal.

We have received the first number of the Gleaner, a small weekly paper published at Providence, Ky., by Clarence C. Given. Mr. Given formerly published the Seaboard Sunbeam and is capable of making the Gleaner a newsy and sprightly little sheet.

Joe Mulligan has been heard from down in Texas. He sent a dispatch to a New York paper last week stating that an immense meteor fell near Williams' Ranch, destroying the house of Mr. Garcia, killing him, his wife and five children and covering an acre of ground. Of course it was he and was quickly traced up and found to be one of Joe's romances. Clark County Den-

The Owensboro Seni-Weekly Post speaking of the Gubernatorial candidates pays Mr. Knott the following deserved compliment:

"There is no one in the field who can equally compare in public service with Knott. He is ten times better known and twenty times more widely reported to be a representative man than either of his competitors. He is a safe man every way. He can be trusted implicitly and without apprehension with all the duties of the Governorship. His fame would add to the honor of the State and he himself would magnify the office."

Miss Selena Fetter, the Louisville young lady who made her debut as an actress two years ago, will resume her stage career in a week's engagement at Chicago, June 10, in the Grand Opera House and under the management of Manager Hamlin. She has been studying, and repenting of her mistake in attempting to "star" without financial backing, during the last two years, and her admirers predict that she will turn out to be a second Mary Anderson.

Buckner and Jones were Confederates and Owlesley was a Federal soldier during the late war, if our information is correct. We have had enough war candidates and war issues and while all of these gentlemen are good men we should pass them all by and nominate a statesman for Governor. Knott, of all the candidates, is the fittest and we trust he will receive the vote of every precinct in the county next Saturday.

"Dude" is the latest word coined.

The correct pronunciation of the word is "dewy-dee." A dude is a cross between a "masher" and a fool.

living. After eating a few bites of supper, I followed Robinson and Harton to the river to try and get some fish for breakfast, but the fish were not hungry, so we went back to the house sauder if not wiser men.

On Friday we took dinner with Wm. Lacy, and were in a good way to get a square meal, but while Lacy and I were paying our respects to the John and greens Phil Griffin, who happened in for dinner, got away with a large sized sliced potato pie. Phil said if the pie had been cooled he could have eaten some of it, but we are compelled to give it to our opinion that he is no slouch when he comes to pie. After dinner we procured a lot of minnows and prepared to tackle the tiny tribe on Saturday.

Well, on Saturday we took our place on the river about fifty yards above the mill dam, and after putting on a four inch minnow we cast our line and took our seats to await results. In about ten minutes we beheld with the true fisherman's delight our cork disappear, so we let him run about sixty feet, trying our new reel, and the result was we lost about a five pound trout. So after that we jerked sooner and succeeded in hanging three fine pond river trout. The wind blew so strong and suddenly that we gave it up in the afternoon and went up in town, where we had the pleasure of meeting many old friends and acquaintances.

Sunday night we attended church and listened to a very able and eloquent sermon delivered by V. W. Dorris, a young divine of considerable ability. Monday morning Robinson and I were fishing early; they didn't bite to do any good. Press had succeeded in taking several very good ones however, but Peter Pepper slipped up unobserved behind and relieved us of them by slight of hand, so we came in that night with fisherman's luck. On Tuesday we didn't get a bite, so Wednesday and Thursday.

Sales by Wheeler, Mills, & Co., April 18 and 19, of 104 lbs., as follows:

20 lbs. good and medium leaf, $7.00 to 11.00
51 lbs. medium leaf $4.00 to 8.90
20 lbs. good and medium lugs, $5.50 to 10.00
13 lbs. common lugs, $3.50 to 3.95

Market continues strong under large offerings and liberal receipts and prices fully sustained for all grades. We have a full board of buyers and a gaudy lively market. We will commence next week selling every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Sales by Wheeler, Mills, & Co., April 18 and 19, of 104 lbs., as follows:

20 lbs. good and medium leaf, $7.00 to 10.75
51 lbs. medium leaf $4.00 to 8.90
20 lbs. good and medium lugs, $5.50 to 10.00
13 lbs. common lugs, $3.50 to 3.95

Market somewhat firmer than last week; prices about the same. The hind sold at $10.75 was grown by Mr. R. F. Vaughan, of Christian county.

Sales by Abernathy & Co., April 18, of 73 lbs.:

15 lbs. good leaf, from $10.75 to 7.00
39 lbs. medium to low leaf from $7.00 to 5.50
19 lbs. lugs, from $5.50 to 4.00

In the above sale included a crop of 4 lbs. of Jno. Carroll esp., making an average of $8.05, one lb. of which brought $10.75.

I must say for true hospitality and good things to eat, the people of Kirkmansville are hard to beat. Mrs. Robinson had everything good and tempting to eat and it seemed to please her very much because we were very delicate and couldn't do justice but we promised to try and be better eating fix next time we came; so under these conditions she reluctantly excused us.

Mr. Thad Williams had just made and launched a boat that was capable of carrying six or eight passengers. He named her the Rain Bow. She plies between Kirkmansville and Horse creek and is destined to do a thriving business. We had the pleasure of taking several rides in the Rainbow.

Our trip and the whole sojourn manner in which we were treated will not fade from our memories soon.

Begging Mrs. Robinson's pardon for not being able to eat more of the good things set before us and promising to do better next time, I will stop for the present.

FISHERMAN. April 10, 1883.

Matcalfe & Bro's Column.

The firm of C. W. METCALFE & BRO., are still in the iron. They have sold four car loads of their Old Reliable Beering Machines, which won the victory over all competitors last year. It is an undoubted fact that the Beering is second to none manufactured.

Examine it with its 188 improvements, at their store. It has fifteen less pieces than any other in this market, consequently, more compact, and more durable.

The oldest, most successful, most durable and logical Draft Binder in this market, is the Deering. See it at Matcalfe & Bro's.

THE DEERING BINDER costs six, seven and eight feet. Go and examine it at METCALFE & BRO'S.

It is simple in construction, durable in its parts, imitated by many and a perfect model for all—the Deering Binder, at C. W. Metcalfe & Bro's.

Very Respectfully, R. H. WILSON.

GARRETTSBURG, KY., Feb. 28, 1883.

Messrs. C. W. METCALFE & BRO.,

GENTS.—The "Homestead Tobacco Grower" I bought of you last spring gave me such entire satisfaction that I take pleasure in recommending it to all who make tobacco. I used it on about twenty acres of medium corn land, seventy-five to one hundred lbs. to the acre.

The land without the Fertilizer would not have made more than six hundred lbs. per acre, with the use of the Homestead, I made at least eight hundred, which is a gain of thirty-three and one-third per cent. in quantity, to say nothing of the profit in the quality. I think I can safely say that my total gain was fifty per cent. In other words, the amount received for the crop was double what it would have been without the use of the Fertilizer. With my experience I would advise the farmers to cultivate their best lands in grain and what you call your corn land in tobacco, and use the Homestead Tobacco Grower.

Respectfully, J. G. CHEATHAM.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 6th, 1883.

I having used the Tobacco Grower for three years and being called, on by C. W. Metcalfe & Bro., to state what I know about it, will say, I like Mr. Cheatham, have used it on my thinnest lands, and with splendid results. I find on this land where Tobacco Grower is used the quality of the Tobacco is greatly superior, and the quantity raised per acre is at least equal to my very best Tobacco ground, and when my same land that the Fertilizer was used on was followed by wheat, I am satisfied I made from one-third to a half more wheat on that ground. To my knowledge there has never been a failure with the Tobacco Grower when used according to directions. It is certainly the thing we need on our thin lands, if we expect to make money by raising Tobacco.

Very Respectfully,

R. H. WILSON.

GARRETTSBURG, KY., Feb. 28, 1883.

Dr. C. D. Ellis left last week for Emporia, Kan., in search of a location to practice medicine. He is one of our most popular and deserving young gentlemen and he has our best wishes wherever he may locate.

Mr. C. E. D. Waracken, of Bremen, Germany, who came to America last December to learn in tobacco, is in this city and will be located here for the present. He is a young gentleman of pleasing address and we trust his sojourn in our midst will be pleasant and profitable.

Miss Annie Meacham, of Memphis, who has frequently visited friends in this city and county will be married on the 26th inst. to Mr. Sam'l McCallum, of Memphis. She is a most fascinating and winsome young lady and Mr. McCallum is to be congratulated upon winning such a jewel for a wife.

FIRE.

A small tenement house near the Eugene Mills, owned by Wyatt Watt, was accidentally burned one night last week. Loss estimated at $300.

The house on Stites' Hill recently used as a smallpox hospital was burned by incendiaries on the night of Wednesday the 18th inst. It was an old log cabin of little value and its destruction was not a surprise, and created no excitement.

On Saturday night last about 11 o'clock, while the rain was falling in torrents, an alarm of fire was given in the northern part of the city. It proved to be the cottage residence of Mrs. Tate, on Liberty street, near the river. It was entirely destroyed with all its contents, as very few people turned out in the rain. The engine was brought out, but could not get to work in time, as the house was small and soon burned. It was valued at several hundred dollars and we understand the loss was nearly if not entirely covered by insurance.

Mr. R. A. West has quit the coal business and expects to embark in some other line of business in a few weeks.

Rev. R. L. Thurnmond, of the Baptist church, is in the city soliciting funds to carry on the missionary work.

Mr. M. D. Kelly will begin the erection of his new jewelry store, adjoining the Henderson building, at once. The building will be two stories high and will be finished off in handsome style.

We understand Capt. Nolan will engage Mr. D. A. Tandy as salesman in his new store. Mr. Tandy has an extensive acquaintance in the county and would doubtless command a large trade for the house.

To INVALIDS:

Gish & Garner are receiving Dawson's balsam water in patent stopper bottles, the only way in the world it can be kept fresh and its medicinal properties preserved.

Prendo Tate, a young printer employed in the New Era office, went over to Clarksville yesterday with Miss Georgia Merritt, a daughter of Mr. Wm. Merritt, and they were married in that city. There was no opposition on either side.

Mr. A. J. McDaniel has bought the interests of the joint owners of the property on the north corner on Main and Court streets and has begun work on a two story building with front two stores wide. It will be a big improvement on the building that formerly stood on the site.

While at Fairview Saturday we were placed under obligations to Mrs. Jno. Bassford and children, of Ringgold, Tenn., were in the city last week the guests of Mr. G. W. Long.

It is furnished with a water attachment, and from the points of the silver cap to the top of each column is fastened a silver chain. It is 29½ inches across the counter and 33½ inches length-wise the counter; the height of the marble is 40 inches and the entire height is five feet.

The Small-pox.

Small-pox news is getting to be of little interest in the city now. There are no new developments to report this week. Sylvia Campbell whose death was foretold last week died on Tuesday, making the eighth death out of thirteen cases in the city, since March 1st. Nelly Jolner, col. is now convalescent in the hospital and she is the only case now under treatment near the city. The white woman Ellen Connor, did not have small-pox, but was sick from vaccination.

The patients on Stites' Hill were discharged several days ago and the house has been burned down. It has been several weeks since any one was exposed to the disease and all danger is now over in the city.

ELSEWHERE.

On Friday last several hands were engaged cooping hogheads in the warehouse of J. C. & J. K. Gant, and while they were attempting to head up one an accident occurred which came near proving fatal to one of the number. They had succeeded in getting it nearly up when it slipped and struck Chas. Hardin, col., on the head, knocking him senseless. It was at first thought he was dead but he subsequently came to and proved not to be seriously injured.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad will sell tickets to Cincinnati during the Dramatic Festival at one faro for the round trip. The rate from Hopkinsville for the round trip will be $7.50. Tickets will be on sale from April 28 to May 4th, and good to return up to and including May 9th. This Festival will be one of the greatest dramatic events ever in the country. All the stars, male and female, will be present in their masterpieces during the week, beginning April 30. Hopkinsville should send a large delegation as the railroad fare is so low that it is a mere pittance.

Messrs. Gish & Garner received a magnificent new soda fountain last week which is the admiration of all who behold it. It is of Tennessee and Italian marble, with base and abutments of black marble.

The main body of the apparatus is square, while the top, separated by a black marble moulding, assumes an octagonal shape. Resting upon the black marble abutments are elegantly engraved silver plated corner pieces, which, falling back at the top change the shape from square to form to the surrounding hexagon.

Four sides of the hexagonal top are of marble, very elaborately cut and engraved, while the other four sides are of silver plated work with scroll work and frames in which mirrors of French plate glass are set. Access to the interior is by a silver plated door, in the rear so that the water attachment need not be disturbed.

The ornamental lines are engraved in the marble and are finished in gold.

It is arranged for 16 syrups and 6 draught-tubes, which are placed on opposite sides. The fountain is 31½ inches square, and 4 feet 7½ inches high, to top of the marble and the whole is surmounted by a bronze figure.

It cost over $1,000.

Carthar has destroyed your sense of smelling and bearing. Hall's Catarrh cure will cure you. 75 cents per bottle. Druggist sell it.

Our worthy and esteemed friend, Captain J. P. Nolan, late of the firm of Nolan & Goodrich, has left us. His home in the future will be in Hopkinsville, Kentucky, in which city he will enter the shoe and hat business. Tennessee possesses but few men who are the equals of this gentleman as a business man. As a salesman we have heard. It stated that he is on a par with the best in our country. If the citizens of Hopkinsville appreciate a truly live, honest and accounting addition to their city, they certainly will find in Capt. Nolan an answer to the above descriptions. While we hate to give him up as a citizen of our community, yet we know that his talents and capabilities better suit him for a larger city. Good bye, Captain, may the citizens of Hopkinsville be as glad to welcome you to their midst as we are sorry to give you up.—Waverley (Tenn.) Journal.

LEWIS: At the Louisville Empirical Hospital, Thursday April 19, 1883, Mr. M. Ermine Lewis, of small-pox, in the 26th year of his life.

The circumstances attending the death of Mr. Lewis were peculiarly melancholy. It will be remembered that his brother was taken with small-pox in this city and died the latter part of March. Young Lewis, though he had never been vaccinated, with a brother's devotion went to the bedside of his younger brother and staid with him until he died. He remained by his bedside day and night and when the loathsome disease extinguished the spark of his brother's life, he held him in his arms while he breathed his last. As soon as his brother was dead Mr. Lewis went to Louisville and as the symptoms of the disease came on him he went to the Hospital for treatment. Every day his parents were advised of his condition and as it grew worse and worse hope died out of their hearts and despair settled upon them. Medical skill could not avail and Ermine Lewis died a martyr to fraternal devotion. He was the last surviving son of his afflicted parents and only one child, a married daughter, remains to comfort them in their old age.

Ermine Lewis was not perfect.

He had his faults like every body else, but he died the death of a hero. He sacrificed his life for his only brother and died for one whom he loved. To enter the chamber of pestilence and death to nurse those afflicted with a virulent and loathsome disease requires heroism which few possess. Ermine Lewis deserved a better fate, but he sleeps in his grave today, away from the home of his childhood and was buried by strangers with none to drop a tear of regret upon his grave. May the clouded copious tears upon his new made grave and may the winds of Heaven sign a requiem over the remains of one whose death exemplified friendship like unto that which Captain to Pythias.

Messrs. Hooper & Son received last week a very elegant and costly new soda fountain which is now in operation in their drug store.

The base is black marble, supported at each corner of the apparatus a silver column. ELSEWHERE.

One case—a negro boy—near the poor house will soon be out of danger and there will be no cases in this magistrate's district.

There have been 3 deaths at Radford's pest house, near Pembroke since the last report. There are now six cases there and three persons who have been exposed. None of the present cases are considered dangerous.

There have been no new cases nor any deaths at Buckner's pest house, near Longview. There were six cases there last week and all are now out of danger.

There are some twelve or fifteen cases in New Providence, Tenn., but the disease is rapidly dying out in this country and all danger is over.

The prevalent custom of osculatory greetings of friends meeting on trains in public places, etc., is often a source of obvious interest to the friendless bystander. Indeed, here is so much cold, selfish cruelty in these cavans publicos endearments, as in the lascivious display of rich rounds of circles and tempting sweetmeats in the shop window, to the eyes of the starved and penniless wretch without who, with watering lips, eats imaginary morsels, while the pains of hunger are torturing him.—Evansville Courier.

We regret the necessity of saying that we are enabled to print but a half-sheet this week. A number of circumstances have conspired to throw us behind with the work. First the office has been moved since the last issue, which required much time; second, a "form" was "pied," making an incoherent mass of a great deal of our type; last, but not least, the arrival of a nine pound boy at the editor's house, has consumed the time and attention of that functionary. Perhaps it is needless for us to say that it is a pretty fair job to rock the first baby and edit a paper at the same time. We feel satisfied that the pater familias will be satisfied with the last excuse; and the bachelors must put up with the first two excuses until they can comprehend the gravity of the situation of the last. However we think it will be some time before all the above circumstances occur again.—Crittenden Press.

Jeff Davis' Genealogy.

[Clecham Commercial Gazette.] Beauvoir, Harrison County, Miss., April 12, 1832.—Samuel M. Duncan: Dear Sir—Yours of the 30th ult. arrived at this office during my absence; otherwise it would have been sooner acknowledged. The reason you give for the inquiry makes it a pleasure for me to reply. I was born in what was then Christian County, Ky., for when Todd County was cut off of Christian the dividing line ran through my father's house, and the room which I was born in, have been told, in Todd County. My father was born in Georgia when it was a colony of Great Britain; his father was an immigrant from Wales, and his mother was a native of Georgia. My mother was a native of South Carolina, and her father emigrated from Ireland. I believe this covers the scope of your inquiry, and will, I hope, be satisfactory to you. If your former letter of inquiry was received the facts are not remembered, because being a private member of society, and having no wish to say anything else, unless as in your case, some reason is given for inquiring into my genealogy, it is a reasonable supposition that the object is to add another to a collection of autograph letters. Be assured that no disrespect was intended toward you, and believe me to be a son of the same soil with yourself.

Respectfully yours,

A Robber Rat.

About two years ago a Mrs. Schultz, residing on Ellis street, Lexington, lost from her jewel case an uncut diamond of considerable value. A Chinese domestic in her employ was arrested on suspicion of having stolen the jewel. The pagan strongly protested his innocence, and for lack of evidence he was discharged from custody. Mrs. Schultz abandoned all hopes of ever seeing the lost stone again, and the matter was forgotten. The strange part of the story occurred a few nights ago. The family had retired for the night, when they were disturbed by a large, scratching noise in the bathroom, as if some one were at work cutting through the windows. The male portion of the household were aroused, and, armed to the teeth, they prepared to march on what they supposed to be burglars. The bathroom was cautiously opened and a sickly glare of light passed over the apartment. It was strong enough, however, to disclose to the searchers, not a robber, but a huge rat, which had in some manner got into the bath-tub, and was vainly endeavoring to climb out over the slippery zinc-lined sides. The scratching of his claws against the metal made the noise that had awoken the family. The house dog, a Scotch terrier, was called in to dispatch the rodent made short work of him. In killing the rat the dog managed its body frightfully, cutting it open so that the entrails protruded. The faucet was turned on to clean out the tub and a scintillating spark in the debris of the dead rat attracted attention. It was picked up and proved to be the diamond which Mrs. Schultz had lost two years ago.—San Francisco Chronicle.

"They who cry loudest are not always the most hurt." Kidney-Wort does its work like the Good Samaritan, quickly, unostentatiously, but with great thoroughness. A New Hampshire lady writes; "Mother has been afflicted for years with kidney disease. Last Spring she was very ill and had an alarming pain and numbness in one side. Kidney-Wort proved a great blessing and has completely cured her."

The Dunkers.

The Dunkers, a sect whose doctrines and habits of life are similar to those of the Meemonites, derive their name from a German word descriptive of their mode of baptism by immersion, but they are called themselves "Brotherhood." They came to America between 1719 and 1729, from Germany, whence they were driven by religious persecution, and first settled in Pennsylvania, where they are still more numerous than in any other State. Like the Friends, they practice extreme simplicity in dress and speech. They have love-feasts, practice the washing of feet, the laying on of hands, anointing with oil, use the kiss of charity, and other habits of worship. Owing to their aversion of statistics which they regard as vainglorious pride, it is not easy to obtain trustworthy accounts of their number, but it is estimated to be about 100,000. They have Bishops, elders, teachers and deacons, are opposed to war, and will not engage in lawsuits.

Swapping a Jackass for a $40,000 Lot.

Pittsburg Dispatch,

Henry Clay once owned the lot adjoining the White House, in Washington, and Commodore John Rogers wanted it but the old Whig persistently refused to dispose of it. On his return from the Mediterranean the commodore brought in one of his vessels a fine Andalusian jackass, which Clay wanted for his Kentucky stock farm. All his offers were rejected, until one day the commodore said in a joke, "You can buy him for your lot opposite the White House." "Done," was Clay's reply, and the animal was shipped off to Kentucky. The commodore build the now historic house which Secretary Seward occupied during the war. Here Payne endeavored to assassinate him on the night when President Lincoln was shot. The lot is now valued at $40,000.

Wounded by Her Wedding Ring.

Montreal, Canada: Wilkes. A somewhat singular accident occurred this morning. As a middle-aged widow from the country was alighting from a sleigh on Notre Dame street her foot slipped on the ice, and falling, her gold wedding ring cut into her finger to the bone. The ring was old and had worn rather sharp on the edge. The subject of the unusual mishap went to the Sainte Dame hospital, where the ring was filed off and the wound dressed. She said she felt more pain of heart than pain of finger, believing it to be an omen that she would not succeed in getting another husband, on which she was naturally more or less intent.
